Million Roblee, Who Was in Cab, Thought chauffeurs. Who Were Resenting a How. Were Highway Robbers -One slips Before Machine in Escaping Cop.

A big automobile travelling south on Central Park West at a pretty swift clip, early yesterday morning, just grazed a m cab northbound at Sixty-third street. The cabby swore and struck out with his whip. The whip flicked one of the six men in the automobile on the face, cutting his temple slightly.

There were two men in the cab, Milton Robbe, who was proprietor of the Hotel Bartholdi at Broadway and Twenty-third street and is now in bankruptcy, and William J. Chittick, Jr., a lawyer, who lives at 102 Manhattan avenue and has an office Broadway. In the automobile were six automobile drivers; Henry Ducey of 34 West Sixty-fourth street, Michael Jackson and Carl Volk of the Sterling Hotel, Thomas and William McMahon, and Wiege Brandt, driver for T. C. McKnight of the McKnight Realty Company. Brandt was the man flicked by the cabby's whip. The drivers had been at a ball in the Manhattan Casino.

The automobile kept going for a few blocks, then whirled around and started north. In front of the Hotel Majestic it might up with the cab. Ducey, Volk and Brandt jumped out of the machine. One grabbed the head of the cab horse and the thers threatened the cabby. Policeman Finnegan of the West Sixty-eighth street station heard quarrelling and ran up. The driver of the auto yelled to his companions in the street and got in motion.

The three quit scrapping with the calman

The three quit scrapping with the cabman and ran for the machine. Volk jumped in easily. Ducey stumbled, fell on the footboard and managed to struggle in. Brandt, who was squarely in front of the automobile. who was squarely in front of the automobile, grabbed at the mudguard, lost his footing and fell. The front wheels of the autopassed over his body. One of the McMahons who was running the automobile, sent it swiftly up Central Park West and stopped

LAWSON NOT BACK OF IT. Scrugbam Makes a Denial for the International Policyholders.

In an affidavit made by George R. Scrugham, manager of the International Policy holders' Association, yesterday it is set forth that Thomas W. Lawson, the Boston inancier, has no connection with the organization. At the hearing before Justice Dowling in the Supreme Court recently in the suit brought by Stephen Farrell to restrain the New York Life as a corporation and twenty directors as individuals from using the policyholders' funds in campaigning for the administration ticket insinuated that Mr. Lawson was seeking to secure control of the company.

Manager Sorugham's affidavit, which was included in papers placed before Justice
Dowling vestarday of temporal services.

Mr. Lawson has never at any time had the remotest connection or communication either with the international policyholders committee or any of its members, or with either of the tickets which it was instrumental in nominating, and has no connection or relation whatever with the campaign being waged by the committee in behalf of the policyholders in those companies. Mr. Lawson has never contributed one cent, either directly or indirectly, to the campaign or to the funds of the international policyholders' committee."

ILLINOIS CENTRAL ELECTION. New Officers to Be Chosen on a Strict Civil Service Basis.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15 .- At the regular meetng of the directors of the Illinois Central Railroad in New York on Wednesday next the following officers will be elected:

First vice-president, William J. Harahan who is now fourth vice-president and is a son of President Harahan. Second vice-president, L. G. Rawn, who has been general manager of the railroad for two years. Third vice-president, A. J. Hackstaff,

IN MAIDEN LANE. Will Put Up a 16 Story Office Building -Assistant District Attorney Train to Build a Fine Private Residence at

No. 118 East Seventy-third Street.

The brokerage branch of the market was rather more active vesterday than it has been in some time. Comparatively few tenements were dealt in, but practically all the chief classes of property in the residence districts were represented in the trading, including elevator apartment houses and high grade private dwellings. Several transactions in mercantile premises were also reported. A valuable site in Maiden lane was bought for improvement with a tall office building. In The Bronx a tract of twenty lots changed ewnership. No sales were held in the Vesey street auction room. Among the new construc tions for which plans were filed with the Building Department was a $42,000 private dwelling to be erected for Assistant Dis-
